

Calodemas errans - Remarks

A genus in need of revision. Distribution is reported according to provisional identification of specimens in reference to the types, but some of the known species appear to be a complex of morphologically similar species, not yet described.